PLANS FOR A NEW CENTRAL FIRE STATION BEING SUBMITTED

Plans are being submitted for the new fire station which is to occupy part of the plot recently taken by eminent domain at Broadway, Franklin street and Mass. avenue. Thus far, five sets of plans have been submitted. The officials have had some excellent ideas of modern, up-to-date fire stations presented to them. Nothing definite has been done as yet, the matter coming before the town first for an appropriation before the plans can be accepted.

ANNUAL ROLL CALL AND BANQUET OF CALVARY M. E. CHURCH

Thursday, the 17th, at 6.30 p. m., was the time of the annual roll call and banquet of the Calvary, M. E. church. Following a reception and general fellowship hour, over two hundred members and friends of the church sat down to a turkey dinner, interspersed with lively old-time songs.

After the roll call, the Misses Brookings and Calvary Male Quartet entertained with vocal numbers. Rev. A. J. Strait called upon Mr. Paul Zeigler to extend greetings to the 98 new members who had become affiliated with the church during the past year, and Mr. Arthur Bamford responded.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE L. DOE MARRIED SIXTY YEARS JANUARY 21st

Mr. and Mrs. George Irving Doe, surrounded by twenty-four near relatives, celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding day on Monday of this week. It was a dinner party and so quietly arranged, that Mr. and Mrs. Doe were given a complete surprise. A year ago the couple were entertained at dinner, but this year, owing to the poor health of Mrs. Doe, the party was held in their handsome home at 44 Jason street.

During the day, Mr. and Mrs. Doe received many telegrams, cards, and letters of congratulations, also hand-some bouquets sent from friends.

The dinner table's chief decoration was a large wedding cake, which was cut at the close of the dinner, each guest being given a piece as a souvenir of this momentous occasion. Mr. Doe was a very active member of the party. He is enjoying excellent health and this is shown by the fact that recently he has finished painting his home (two coats), and putting a new shingle roof on the same. This work he did himself, and so of course the job is a good one.

Mr. and Mrs. Doe have resided in Arlington for many years. Mr. Doe having held the office of Selectman as well as assessor, for several terms.

ELECTRIC SHOW IN TOWN HALL ONE OF THE FINEST EVER HELD IN A TOWN

Robbins Memorial Town Hall furnished an unusual setting for the Electrical Show, which has been held all this week by the Edison Electric Illuminating Company. We doubt if ever the company has been so favored in a town, at least, with so elegant a hall in which to hold its exhibition.

Each evening the Town Hall park has been illuminated with powerful reflectors, one placed so that the beautiful Dullin statue of the Indian has stood out in bold relief, and another that has thrown the flag and staff into prominence, which, together with the magnificent hall, the top of which has been strung with innumerable incandescent electric lights, also an electric sign, announcing the show, has made the park and hall a conspicuous spot. The concerts that have been broadcasted from the stage inside, and which are to be heard on the outside, have drawn people to the hall.

We are indeed living in a wonderful age, and to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, the townspeople are indebted for having brought to their town an exhibition that has been most interesting.

Mr. Edward Geary, proprietor of the Independent, took upon himself the arduous task of arranging a program for each day to be broadcasted, and to him the "Listeners-in" are indebted. Besides musical numbers there has been an effort made to broadcast Arlington's many assets and to acquaint other towns of the "Best Town Ever," as one of our citizens has named it.

The interior of the hall has presented a most attractive appearance. There are exhibits made by different firms arranged in an inviting manner, each occupying a booth. In the centre of the hall is a miniature electric fountain and at intervals are white pillars surrounded by round white globes, from which glow the electric lights. The national colors are draped about the gallery and trellises, on which are trailing vines and flowering shrubs, give a most pleasing picture. One would scarce-

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—Mrs. Rebekah Hicks, of 3 Pond terrace, who has been ill for a long time, is reported as in a serious condition.

—The young people of Calvary church, held a pot luck supper and stunt social on Thursday evening, January 24th, at the church.

—Mr. H. L. Sanborn, the genial manager of the Woolworth Five and Ten Cent store, has been transferred to Bath, Maine. He will be greatly missed by a host of friends.

—On the evening of Wednesday, January 30th, the South Boston bowling team will take on the Arlington Town Team, for a special match on the Arlington Alleys.

—The cold snap made good skating on Hill's Pond, but the high wind kept the waters of Spy Pond so disturbed that only sections were frozen. The entire lower end of the pond is still open.

—Rev. Howard Lewis of the Follen church, Lexington, has invited the Ida F. Butler Rebekah Lodge and the Odd Fellows to a special service at the church on Sunday, February 3rd.

—On Wednesday evening, January 23rd, Mr. and Mrs. William I. Gratto entertained fourteen friends with dinner and whist. The birthday of Mr. Gratto was the occasion of the dinner party.

—Mrs. William E. Denvir left her automobile standing in front of her home, 78 Cleveland street, on Sunday, during which time some one stole the side curtains from the car and took some of the tools from the pocket of the car.

—On January 31st, the Sunday school workers will meet at Calvary church for their monthly meeting, at which time the election of officers will be held. Rev. A. J. Strait will give an illustrated talk on, "How and Where We Got Our Bible."

—The Anti Tuberculosis committee of the Arlington Welfare Council reports a total of $835 to date, from the sale of the Arlington and from the sale of Christmas Health Seals, and wishes to thank all those who made this amount possible.

—Miss Dorothy Leland Dewing, a Senior at Wellesley College, is chairman for this year, of the dances held at the college, on Saturday nights. Beginning Saturday, January 12th, the dances will be held in the new Alumni Hall. Over three hundred couples attended the dance on that date. Miss Dewing is also president of the Wellesley College Mathematical Club. She is the older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eben F. Dewing, of Woodland street.

—Last Monday evening, January 21st, in Odd Fellows' Hall, the Ida F. Butler Rebekah Lodge, held their meeting after which a pie social was held. The committee, in charge were, Mrs. Elizabeth Silliker, chairman; Mrs. Winnie Finley and Mrs. Carrie Ayer. In addition to the pies, cake and coffee were also served. A social hour will be held after the next meeting, Monday, February 4th.

—Music featured the last Sunday evening service at the Calvary M. E. church, and Rev. A. J. Strait gave a very timely sermon on, "First Things First." He laid emphasis on the increasing "busyness," of people, with the crowding out of the most essential things in life. The Settlement orchestra of the West Newton School of Music, directed by Miss Helen Grossman, gave several instrumental selections. There were also numbers by a Calvary church male quartet, consisting of Messrs. Watt, Whitchurch, Van Deren and Bamford.

—The regular meeting of the Kensington Park Study Club was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Teele, 11 Jason street, Tuesday afternoon, January 22nd. The program was on Russian literature and was as follows: "Nikolai Vasilievich Gogol," with readings from his historical novel, "Tarass Bulba," prepared by Mrs. Horace Fernald, and read in her absence by Mrs. C. H. Hoxie; readings from Gogol's "Dead Souls," considered the most humorous book in Russian literature, given by Mrs. Walter Newton; "Pushkin, the Poet," with readings from his poems, by Mrs. Edwin Allen. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Teele, assisted by Mrs. Edwin Allen. The next meeting of the club will be February 12th, at the home of Mrs. F. H. Clark, 44 Hopkins road.

—Robert H. Newcomb, executive assistant of the Boston & Maine Railroad, gave a very interesting talk at the Universalist Men's Club, last Friday night, confined almost entirely to freight transportation problems affecting the Boston & Maine R. R., which also apply largely to the other New England roads. He showed the effect of the large amount of "short haul" business prevailing in New England, compared with the "long haul" business enjoyed by the larger roads west of the Hudson River, and the benefit that would result in New England, if the New England roads could be operated as a part of these larger systems. There was a large attendance at this meeting, all of whom enjoyed the excellent supper preceding the speaking. Three new members were enrolled.

—A retreat for women will open in St. Agnes' church, Sunday evening with Rev. Fr. Stanton, a well known Jesuit, in charge. The services will continue every evening during the week.

—The W. C. T. U. will hold the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Harry Townsend, 1070 Mass. avenue, Friday, February 1st, at 3 o'clock. Miss Laura Jones, state vice-president, will be the speaker and will take for her subject, "Citizenship."

—The firemen were called out on Tuesday evening, for a grass fire on a lot, off Fairmont street. As the adjoining property was in danger, the firemen were sent for. The men made short work of the blaze.

—The Arlington Historical Society holds its regular meeting Monday evening, in the parlor of the First Parish church, at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Mr. Jacob Bitzer. His subject, "The history of the industries along Sucker Brook."

—The Florence Crittenton League will hold an all day sewing meeting, Monday, January 28th, in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church, beginning at ten o'clock. Box luncheon at which time coffee will be served.

—An ice hockey team has been organized among the boys of the Junior High school west, and William Powers, of the faculty, is acting as coach. On last Tuesday afternoon, the team opened its season on Hill's Pond, with a win over Belmont High team, by a score of 5 to 4.

—Sergeant Theodore R. Belyea with Patrolmen Harold Pick and George E. Moore, raided the premises of Louis F. Monto, at 7 Park terrace, on Wednesday evening and seized three quarts of liquor and seven empty bottles. The case will come up in court later.

—Among the many big projects which this town is to undertake in the near future, is the widening of Mass. avenue, from Academy and Central streets toward the Heights. The street is to be widened ten feet on either side, which is something that should have been done years ago, before land values were as inflated as they are at the present time.

—The first of the series of bowling matches for the town championship was started on the Arlington Alleys, Wednesday evening. The four contestants were M. F. Horrigan, P. E. Kelley, John J. Dale and Charles A. LaBreque for the opener. Horrigan rolled 989; Kelley 941, Dale 907 and LaBreque 897. Next Wednesday evening, another match will start.

—Dr. George W. Cutter is leaving Arlington for a trip around the world. Dr. Cutter is an extensive traveler, having visited all the places of interest in this country as well as in South America. He has also been abroad, several times and now, although well advanced in years, he is starting out to take one of the most interesting trips that could be imagined. "The Advocate" hopes to hear from Dr. Cutter, while he is on this trip.

—Next Sunday night, John Herman Loud, organist at Park Street church, Boston, will include in his fifteen minute recital, preceding the service, "Christmas Meditation," a composition of Mark S. Dickey, of this town. This service is broadcasted by WNAC. Originally written for violin and piano (or organ), this piece is familiar to Arlington people through performances by Julius Theodorowicz, Frederick Mahn, Ferdinand Thillois and Louis Patriquin, with Mr. Dickey as organist. It was also played by Mrs. Jeffries and Mr. Robinson, at a noon-day King's Chapel service, on January 8.

—Sunday afternoon, the 20th, from four until seven o'clock, Mrs. Edward D. Hooker, gave her many friends, opportunity to meet her daughter, Mrs. Rodney Payne (Anna Hooker), of Duluth, Michigan, who has been spending a few weeks with her mother, at the latter's home on Pleasant street, just over the line from Arlington, in Belmont. The house, which was at one time the Arlington Golf Club, is one of the few real old houses in this section and it makes a most delightful setting for the Hooker's family heirlooms. At this time, the soft candle lighted rooms together with the open fires, gave a charm to the rooms that were filled with long time friends of Mrs. Hooker, and her daughter, Mrs. Hooker was assisted in receiving by her daughters, Mrs. Payne, Miss Josephine and Miss Rebecca Hooker, while in the dining room her oldest daughter, Mrs. Stuart Rand, took charge of the serving, assisted by Mrs. Robert Rand, Mrs. Max Rhoades and Miss Pierce, of Brookline, pouring at the tea table.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. Ernest Moore left this week Tuesday, on one of the Raymond & Whitcomb-trips, to California. They will be absent until March and before their return, they will visit in Pasadena, where are already located for the winter, Mr. Moore's mother, Mrs. George D. Moore and sister, Miss Florence

Moore. His brother, Mr. Louis Moore, with wife and family, are also in Pasadena.

—Mr. George Smith and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Smith, are leaving Saturday, with one of the Cook parties, on a trip around the world.

—Wednesday evening, Angelo Pasquino, of 15 Blossom street, left his automobile standing on Mass. avenue, opposite Walnut street, for a short time. On his return he found that his brief case, containing papers of a business nature, were missing.

—A surprise party and shower was tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Vinton Fletcher, (nee Laura Zeigler), on Saturday evening, January 19th, at the home of Mrs. Fletcher's parents, 40 Warren street. The house was artistically decorated in orchid and yellow crepe paper for the occasion. The party consisted of about forty friends and relatives of the couple from Dorchester, Concord Junction, Jamaica Plain, Melrose and Arlington. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher received many beautiful gifts. Refreshments were served followed by dancing. Miss Kathleen Cameron, intimate friend of Mrs. Fletcher was in charge of the festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher are living at 73 Peck street, Attleboro Falls, Mass.

"YOUNG PEOPLE'S DAY" OBSERVED AT FIRST PARISH LAST SUNDAY MORNING

Last Sunday the First Congregational (Unitarian) church observed "Young People's Day." A few years ago the national organizations of both laymen and young people, in the Unitarian churches asked the churches to observe and ministers to hand over the regular service once a year to the laymen, and once to the young people, and about one half of the churches have complied with the request, the Arlington parish having done so from the first.

Last Sunday, Dr. Gill sat in a pew with the congregation; Cora Eastman, A. H. S., '24, and Edward H. Bailey, Harvard '28, conducted the service, and Mr. E. Raymond Attebery, of the Harvard Theological school, who for a year has been superintendent of the Church school, and working with the young people, gave the sermon.

It was an earnest and thoughtful plea for the young to beware of the temptation to take the easy way in the conduct of life. A chorus of some twenty young people furnished the choir music. "The entire service was conducted with simplicity, sincerity and dignity," said Dr. Gill and was an occasion of profit and enjoyment to the large congregation.

NOW IS THE TIME TO TAKE OUT NOMINATION PAPERS FOR TOWN OFFICERS

We are reminded by Mr. William C. Drouet that the time has come for aspirants for town offices and Town Meeting members, to take out nomination papers.

The papers for candidates for town officers must be filed before February 15th, and those for Town Meeting members, by the 16th of February.

In seeking election for town offices, the candidate should take into consideration the office to be filled and unless he or she is willing to give the time necessary to discharge the obligation, it should not be undertaken. There are too many who are willing to assume a responsible office without due consideration of the obligations that go with it. As Mr. Drouet has said in his article, that will be found in another column, there is often too much of the personal element that comes in the selection of candidates. A desire to secure certain people to run, rather than to study their capabilities.

In choosing the candidates this year, let us not be unmindful of this, whether it be for town offices or Town Meeting members.

We understand that Mr. Thomas D. Kennedy will not be a candidate for the office of Selectman, to fill the vacancy on the Board by the completion of the service of Mr. Charles H. Higgins, as was stated in these columns last week.

Mr. Frederick W. Hill and Mr. Arthur Birch are the only candidates for that office, so far announced.

In the vacancies in the School committee, already nomination papers have been taken out. Mr. Foster P. Doane, of 20 Cliff street, who was appointed to fill out the year in place of Mr. Herbert Snow, who resigned, after having been elected to the committee for a term of three years, will be a candidate for the remaining two years of Mr. Snow's unexpired term. Prof. George E. Russell, of 191 Park avenue, who is an instructor at the Institute of Technology, has taken out nomination papers for a member of the School committee and Prof. Alexander Rice, has also taken out papers to succeed himself on the committee.

Miss E. Caroline Pierce, who has filled so acceptably the position made vacant by the death of the late Town Clerk Thomas J. Robinson, has taken out nomination papers for the office of Town Clerk, and as yet we have heard of no one who will oppose her election. She has proved equal to her task. She has given efficient and faithful service through these past months and that there was one who was able to step into the shoes, if we may be permitted to use such an expression, of so capable a town officer as was our late town clerk, is a matter for which the town should feel extremely grateful. No doubt she will receive a large vote at the town meeting in March.

A LIFE STORY WELL TOLD

Mr. James Morgan, long time holding an important position on the Boston Daily Globe, an intimate and close friend of the late Gen. Charles H. Taylor, whose genius and persistence lifted that paper from a liability to the place it now holds as one of the best samples of newspaper property in this country, has written the story of that useful, busy life, and Gen. Taylor's sons, who are ably carrying on the life work of their father, have given it to the public in attractive book form.

Gen. Taylor began his career as a printer at the age of fifteen years. Two years later he was serving as a private in the 38th Mass. Infantry, in the Civil War. Wounded and discharged for disability, he resumed when able his work in a printing office; at the age of nineteen was on the staff of a Boston daily as reporter and by his ability gained fame among his associates. Later he was private secretary to the Governor at the State House; at twenty-two he was a member of Mass. Legislature. When only twenty-seven years of age he was placed at the head of the Boston Globe. This in substance is a sketch Gen. Taylor once wrote of himself. Mr. Morgan takes these facts and by incident and illustration reveals a strong man, who for more than forty years at least was a dominant feature in the journalistic, political and social life of the metropolis. Gen. Taylor built the Globe and it stands as his memorial. Mr. Morgan has most happily told of how it was built and the material used.

The senior editor is indebted to Mr. Charles H. Taylor, the oldest son of the late General, for a copy of this book, for which he is most appreciative, for one of his pleasantest memories is of his acquaintance with this splendid man, who has left his imprint on the Globe, that today occupies a place in the front ranks of journalism.

(Correspondence)
Editor of the Advocate:

Your attention is respectfully invited to what the writer conceives to be an editor's opportunity for a real and timely public service. With but a few weeks intervening before the citizens of Arlington are summoned to the annual election of municipal officers, the fact that nomination papers for the various elective town offices are now available at the office of the town clerk, should be given the widest publicity. Any citizen of either sex, as I understand the law to be, who is willing or desirous of serving his town in any such elective office, from town meeting membership to Board of Selectmen, with required qualifications as to citizenship and residence, can obtain such papers and by securing thereon the required number of credible and qualified signatures, can insure his place upon the ballot and a trial of his candidacy upon its merits.

Granting for the sake of argument only that we manage our affairs as well as the average town of approximately equal population, we should be short-sighted indeed, if for no other reasons than those of economy, if we ignored any expedient by which we might effect an improvement. Among other things it comes to mind that attendance at the limited town meetings have not been what the citizens, who have delegated their town meeting rights and duties, have a clear right to expect of their delegates. An indifference or failure to appreciate their multiplied responsibility is too painfully apparent on the part of some delegates, as indicated by their attendance averages, and this may be in part attributable to the ease with which they have found their way to town meeting membership. To the extent that this fault exists in other branches of town government, this argument is also in point.

More than once since the original steps were taken three years ago to insure full delegations to the town meeting from each of the seven precincts, I have heard the comment that town meeting membership was a matter of influence, ring control, being "on the inside," etc. As to the justice of such comment we need not now concern ourselves. It is enough to say, that given full and seasonable information as to the necessary steps and available opportunities, the aggrieved citizen is stopped from further comment of this kind.

Self-perpetuation in office on the part of any town officer or town board effectuated by withholding such seasonable information, intentionally or otherwise, is not only repugnant to the principles of American citizenship, but leaves the way clearly open to certain consequential evils, including those of indifference, inefficiency, and stagnation.

Wm. C. Drouet.

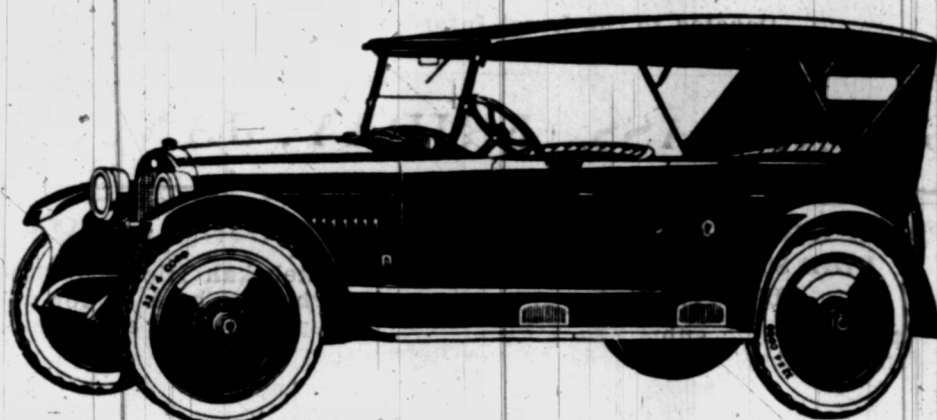

MISS MARIE J. FRAZER'S PUPILS APPEAR IN RECITAL

The pupils of Miss Marie Josephine Frazer, appeared in recital in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, last Friday evening, marking the fourth mid year event of this kind for Miss Frazer's classes. The numbers on the program were varied and showed the children off to good advantage, for each child had a solo dance number and exhibited much skill in executing the same. Miss Lucy Neilan acted as pianist for the recital and at the close of the program dancing was enjoyed by the audience. During the evening, Miss Frazer did a specialty number, which marked the close of the program. The recital was attended by a large number and the parents and friends of the pupils were generous in their applause, thus showing their appreciation of the efforts of the young pupils.

Those taking part in the recital were, Barbara Canavan, Kathleen Sullivan, Sally Morton, Dorothy Frazer, Helen Duffey, Patricia Sullivan, Edith Cassidy, Phyllis Harding, Alice Carroll, Eleanor Ohlund, Betty Mooney, Frances Marankas, Elizabeth Sutton, Dorcas O'Neill, Eleanor O'Neill, Mary Murphy, Buster Harding, Reta Healy, Dorothy York, May Traverse, Kathleen MacDonald, Ann Chambers, Noreen Chambers, Earl Stevens, Dorothy Campbell, Jean Hamilton, Virginia Sullivan, Mary Dacey, Lois Hackett, Elizabeth Waterman, Katherine Kiley, Anna Norberg, Catherine Grace, Katherine Kennelly, Helena O'Brien, Ruth Driscoll, Margaret Irwin, Catherine Hunter, Earl Stevens, Frances Traverse, Helen Edna McCarthy, Anna Callahan, Ethelyn Jane Barber, Alice Duncan, Alice Lemont, Alice Leveroni, Margaret Power, Olive Hensett, Jenny Healy, Sarah Healy, Marie Kennelly, Carmel Fenja, Adrienne

ARLINGTON BOY SCOUT NOTES

Lion Patrol won the mid-year inter-patrol track meet of Troop 2, on Tuesday evening, January 15th, by a good margin over the other patrols, owing principally to the splendid work of Kenneth Draper, who won first place in both the high and the broad jump. The final score was Lion 16; Tiger 10; Beaver 9, and Stag 6.

The first event was the high jump which was won by Draper with a height of 3 feet, 11 1/2 inches. McArthur of Tiger and Pepler of Stag, tied with 3 feet 9 inches for second place.

In the standing broad jump, Draper again won first, jumping 6 feet 10 1/2 inches. Harrison of Tiger won second with 6 feet 5 1/2 inches, and Hawkins of Beaver, third with 6 feet 4 1/2 inches.

The knot tying contest was won by Lion Patrol, (Baird, Engelson and Wetherbee). Beaver was second and Stag third.

The fireman's carry relay race was won by Tiger Patrol, (McArthur, Harrison, Fales and Buchanan), with Stag second and Lion third.

The basketball furnished lots of fun and some good games. In the semi-finals, Tiger beat Lion 3 to 0, and Beaver beat Stag 6 to 4. In the semi-finals, Beaver took Tiger into camp to the tune of 8 to 2.

At the examining court of honor, held Thursday evening, January 17, in the Old Town Hall, Westcott Atwood, of Troop 6, passed his final tests for the rating of eagle scout; Richard Sanger, of 8, became a second class scout, and Malcolm B. Davis, of 8, became a first class scout. Other merit badges were passed as follows: Kenneth Draper, Troop 2, marksmanship and architecture; Charles Atwood, Troop 6; physical development; Westcott, of 6, masonry, civics, pioneering, and King Rugg, of 8, interpreting.

Preparations for the "Big Night," Fathers' and Sons' Night, to be held on Lincoln's Birthday, February 12, are going on apace and everything points to one of the best times the boys and their "Dads" ever had. There will be an entertainment, particularly interesting to the boys, a good feed and lots of jolly fun. What the entertainment will consist of is not yet known, but it will be the best act for youngsters that is going on in Boston that week. It may be acrobatic, it may be tumbling, it may be a sleight-of-hand man—not even the committee knows yet. But it will be good. That assured. If any lover of boys who has no boy of his own in the scouts wants to act as host for a scout whose father is away that night, let him send his name to Scout Executive Bacon, at once. He'll be accommodated and will have the time of his life.

BOWLING NOTES COMMUNITY CLUB

The Community Club of Arlington bowling league started the last half of the season with the matches on the Arlington Alleys, Friday, January 19th. The opening matches were marked with a new team single string record of 505 and also an individual three string record with 337. Long of Team B had the high single with 116 and also the high three string. The matches resulted as follows: Team B won three points from Team A; Team D won three points from Team F and Team E took all four points from Team C. The scores:—

Team B—Nichols 292; Porter 278; Gutterston 246; Hunter 281; Long 337. Team total 1434.

TOWN BOWLING LEAGUE

Two records of the season were broken and the Knights of Columbus team was crowded out of first place in the town bowling league series as a result of the match rolled on the Arlington Alleys, Thursday evening, January 17th. The Town Team went into first place and it was the anchor man of this team, John Keefe, who made the new three string record with 335 and this team set the new team total with 1541. Good scores were much in evidence. The shifts in the league now bunch the teams so that there is but one point difference between any team, the leaders having but a one point margin and the other teams being bunched just one point behind the leader. The Town Team won all four points from the Elks' Team, the Regent Alley Team won four from the Knights of Columbus Team, and the Community Club split even with the Church League Team. The scores:—

Town Team—Lynch 309; J. Kelley 313; Mason 272; Donovan 312; J. Keefe 335. Team total 1541.
Elks—Merrigan 252; Fleming 268; Crown 272; Horrigan 294; LaBreeque 280. Team total 1366.
Regent—Penta 307; McHugh 255; Craig 308; Johnson 302; Hawke 318. Team total 1490.
K. of C.—Dale 239; McGarry 281; Kelley 312; Sexton 269; J. Dale 271. Team total 1372.
Community Club—Fowle 263; Thayer 263; Rogers 268; Green 265; Cade 307. Team total 1366.
Church League—Behnke 272; Hughes 287; Mason 256; Porter 257; Solomon 268. Team total 1340.

CHURCH LEAGUE

The cold weather had its effect on the bowling teams of the Church League, last Monday evening, for two teams failed to put in an appearance and so defaulted their games. The A. F. G. Brotherhood team of the Heights Baptist church took a tumble and lost three points to the Davis team of the same church. Maxham of the Davis team, was the high man of the evening, having the high single string with 115 and the high three string with 318. The matches resulted as follows: Davis team of the Heights Baptist church won three points from the A. F. G. Brotherhood; First Baptist church won four points from Team B of the Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal); Team A of the Church of Our Saviour won four by default from Calvary Methodist church, and the Heights Methodist church won four points by default from the Heights Baptist Team. The scores:—

Davis Team (Heights Baptist)—Maxham 318; Giles 241; Edwards 213; Richardson 256; Hoffman 253. Team total 1301.
A. F. G. Brotherhood (Heights Baptist)—Lahman 365; Ohlund 299; Chaney 267; Craft 231; Mason 257. Team total 1300.
First Baptist church—Miller 268; Sorensen 276; Allen 277; Chase 278; Denny 210. Team total 1309.
Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal)—Team B—C. Behnke 284; Hamilton 232; Tracy 223; H. Behnke 232; Harrison 255. Team total 1236.
Heights Methodist church—Wilson 268; D. Solomon 294; Stymest 271; Porter 292; W. Solomon 242. Team total 1367.
Heights Baptist church—Forfeited.
Church of Our Saviour (Episcopal)—Team A—Titus 248; Patterson 275; Williams 396; Friery 257; Behnke 293. Team total 1369.
Calvary Methodist church—Forfeited.

ARLINGTON GRANGE, NO. 376, MEETS AT YE LANTERN

Arlington Grange, No. 376, held its regular meeting at Ye Lantern, on Wednesday evening, January 16. Despite the fact that it was a very stormy night, a large number of the patrons were present, including several visitors from other granges. It was the first regular meeting to be held since the installation of officers on January 2nd, and the efficient manner in which the Worthy Master, Mrs. Frank O. Berquist, who presided over the meeting, and the other newly installed officers performed their duties, elicited favorable comment from everyone present. A large number of applications for membership were read at this meeting, indicating the popularity already gained by this organization during its short existence.

Dr. Edna F. Easter, the newly installed lecturer, gave a brief talk in which she outlined the history and purposes of the grange. This was followed by remarks from some of the visiting officers from other granges. At this point a rising vote of thanks was extended to Deputy and Mrs. J. Edward Coleman, of Waverley Grange, for their cooperation and untiring efforts in assisting the officers of Arlington Grange to get under way in such a splendid manner. A social hour followed the business meeting, during which dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

The next meeting of Arlington Grange will be held at Ye Lantern, Spy Pond, on Wednesday evening, February 6th. All persons desiring to join the order should present their applications at this meeting as there will be only one initiation of candidates before the summer months. The social hour at the next meeting will be devoted to dancing and a basket social.

ASSEMBLY CLUB ADDRESSED BY CHAPLAIN ROBERT WALKER OF THE CONCORD REFORMATORY

On Friday evening, January 18th, the Assembly Club had a pleasant and interesting meeting at Ye Lantern Hall, which was opened not only to members, but husbands and friends as well. The first entertainer on the program was the Rev. Robert Walker, who is now and has been for the past thirteen years, chaplain of the Concord Reformatory.

Mr. Walker spoke in a most interesting manner on the habits of criminals, both inside and outside of prison, and of his personal experiences with many of them. The talk was given in a humorous as well as serious vein, giving his audience different angles and aspects on the life of a criminal. Jessica Marsden, a member of the Assembly Club and well known teacher and reader of elocution in Arlington, gave several appreciated selections, suitable to the evening's entertainment. Miss Dorothy Van Horn and Mr. Thornberg gave several exhibitions of fancy dancing.

The next meeting of the club will be held Friday evening, February 1, at Ye Lantern. At this meeting the nominating committee will announce those who have accepted the different positions as officers for the ensuing year.

FRIENDS OF DRAMA PRESENT

"FRIEND HANNAH"

Before Members of the Woman's Club and Guests.

"The finest amateur performance I have ever seen." "The best Guest Night ever given by the Woman's Club." These are but two of the many complimentary remarks that have been heard of the dramatic performance given Thursday evening of last week, by "The Friends of the Drama," in Robbins Memorial Town Hall, before members of the Arlington Woman's Club and its guests.

These are indeed high compliments, for there have been many splendid dramatic performances given in Town Hall and the club in years past, has had the opportunity of hearing men of world wide reputation.

We think the answer to this unanimous praise of the guest night of January 17th, is, that many feared that the sterner sex, at least, would not find enjoyment in seeing the fair sex in the cast, don male attire. Whether it was from having become accustomed to the "knickers" worn by so many of the opposite sex in public places, or whether it was because the ladies in the cast on Thursday, who assumed the male characters, wore their masculine clothes with such ease, grace and dignity, the aversion was overcome in the splendid interpretation of the character assumed, we do not know, but we do know that we, at least, have heard no unfavorable criticism, but rather many words of praise of the entire performance and of the fine appearance of every member of the cast.

The play, as was stated last week in our report of "Guest Night," was "Friend Hannah," by Paul Kester. It relates to an episode in the life of the Prince of Wales, afterwards King George, 3rd, of England. It is in four acts, all of which are filled with events of absorbing interest, that require however in its presentation, players with more than ordinary ability and with a keen perception, in order to bring to the play the right atmosphere, that will perhaps be remembered, was so admirably presented by Annie Russell, the actress, some eleven years ago. On Thursday evening this was accomplished in the selection of the cast for the performance.

Mrs. George Moody was the coach and to her is due an unlimited amount of praise, not only in her discernment in casting the play, but in her careful and intelligent coaching, that brought to fruition something beyond the ordinary in the way of an amateur performance. In fact, it was presented with such smoothness, that it would have done credit to a professional cast.

There is no higher compliment to an actress or actor than the ability to move their audience to tears. This was what Mrs. Walter J. Vaughn was able to do in the tense moments of the play. Mrs. Vaughn had the leading woman's part, taking the character of "Friend Hannah," which she played with a charm and naturalness that was perfect. The abandon and buoyancy which she assumed in the first three acts, showed her capabilities, but the artistry of her work was more clearly portrayed in the last act (a lapse of fifty years), when grief has mellowed and softened the life of Hannah, who, however, still cherishes with deep affection, the love of her husband and lover, who fifty years previous she was persuaded to give up when she was made acquainted, by the Earl of Bute, and the Princess Dowager, of Wales, that George is King of England. The anguish, yet deep satisfaction in being able to see the King again, when he is led into the garden of Hannah (having become blind), by his faithful friend the Duke of Chandos, which holds sweet memories for the King as the place where his Hannah gave him her love, was made so realistic, that when the curtain was drawn on this scene, there was many a tear stained face in the audience.

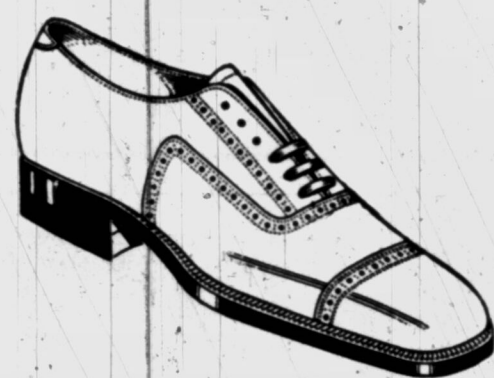

Mrs. Ralph W. Loud played opposite Mrs. Vaughn in the character of George, Prince of Wales, and later George the third. Mrs. Loud has a wonderfully resonant voice and always keen perception of the role assumed. She plays with ease of a professional and she made her part very convincing. The love scene with Hannah in the third act, when the King is ready to give up all else to be with his Hannah, was a delicate and artistic bit of acting as was also her work in the last act already referred to.

Miss Lena Winifred Lenk and Mrs. Stella Marek Cushing, one the friend and the other the brother of George, each did a splendid bit of acting, getting into the atmosphere of her character, with a naturalness that made their playing most interesting. Miss Lenk shared honors with Mrs. Vaughn and Mrs. Loud in the last act.

Mrs. William G. Brooks, as Hannah's uncle, was much enjoyed. Her part was not large, but it was one that required intelligent interpretation, and this it had in the hands of Mrs. Brooks, whose well modulated voice is a great asset to her dramatic work.

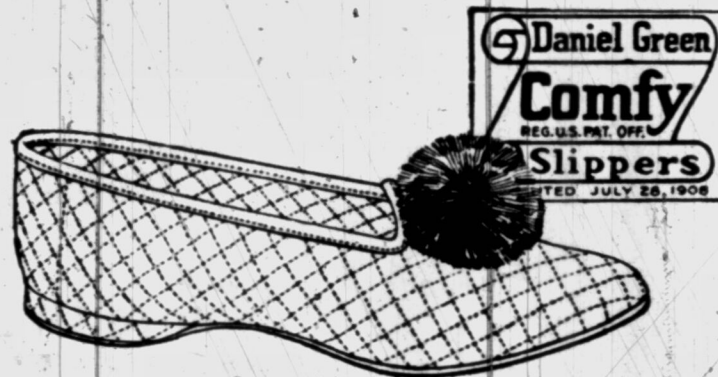

Not an easy role to assume was that of Isaac Axford, the nephew of Thomas Lightfoot, who is in love with Hannah, but whose modesty makes it difficult to tell Hannah, until forced to do so by his uncle, who represents the attentions of George to Hannah, who comes up to London to be with her uncle in his shop, and where George and his two companions are wont to be found being measured for the shirts. Hannah is to make for them as apprentice in her uncle's shop. Miss Lenk played her part with intelligence, making her audience to truly sympathize with the rejected and dejected lover of so gentle a disposition,—that even Hannah felt grieved in not being able to reciprocate in regard to his wishes.

maid of all work and also the constant companion of Hannah, never played more acceptably. The devotion and interest in her young mistress was always apparent in her acting and the bits of intimacy between the two were delightfully played.

Mrs. Orville L. Story and Mrs. Charles A. Dennett had but a small speaking part, but their presence on the stage was telling. Mrs. Story made a most dignified and convincing Earl of Bute and we have heard it whispered that she was fully as splendid in her character, as the actor taking the part in Annie Russell's cast. She surely looked her part.

Mrs. Dennett has a wonderfully beautiful speaking voice, which she uses with great taste, and as she came onto the stage she did indeed look like a Queen, for she was regal in her beautiful costume and the scene between she and Hannah, was one of the choice bits of the play, her gentle, yet persuasive voice, making one realize the depth of the character of the woman being portrayed, who, with a heart of a woman, possessed the soul and courage of a Queen.

The character of Margaret Lightfoot, the mother of Hannah, was another small part, but as played by Mrs. Harold L. Stratton it was given all the dignity called for, that of a gentlewoman, and was an interesting character study of that period.

It was not an easy task to put on an amateur stage, a four act play, but every obstacle was overcome through the splendid cooperation of those entrusted with the details.

The first act—the garden scene—was made most attractive with its high brick wall and trailing vines, and shrubbery with the thatched cottage at one side and at the other an inviting doorway. The most elaborate scene however, was in the third act. This was the parlor at Hannah's home at Hampton, after her marriage to George, Prince of Wales. This was very beautiful, the period being well portrayed in the hangings and the furnishings. Mrs. William M. Hatch had these details in charge and as usual carried them out with skill that comes with having been long associated with amateur dramatic work.

Not the smallest detail was overlooked by the coach and this was one of the charms of the presentation that gave it quite the flavor of a professional performance. One notable incident was in scene one, act one, when was heard the bugle call in the distance, that was the announcer of the returning fox hunters, who were heard shouting and laughing in the street behind the high brick wall of Hannah's garden, and again in the second act, the sonorous voice of the town crier, "All's well" as he wended his way along the streets of Hampton, it growing fainter as he leaves the scene being enacted at Thomas Lightfoot's shop, and still again, the murmuring in the streets at the announcement that the "King is dead," in the third act, that brings sorrow to Prince George in his realization that the happy hours spent with Hannah will be denied him as King of England. These small, but important details were finely carried out, as was also the lighting effects, all of which added to the interest of the play.

The play was costumed with great taste, even to the minutest detail, every accessory having been carefully selected, both in the women's and men's costumes, with a view to the ensemble, which again showed the discernment of the ladies in the cast and their coach.

When the curtain was rung down on the last act, in which the principles gave one of the most finished bits of quiet work ever seen in this town, it was not to be wondered at, that many in the audience gave evidence of having been deeply moved by the group of ladies, who out of their busy lives and household cares, had been willing to give so generously of their time, in order to present before the members of the Arlington Woman's Club and its guests, an entertainment calculated to please and which they accomplished far beyond the expectations of the most sanguine member. It was a triumph for every member of the cast, who, at the close of the play, held an informal reception, when many took the opportunity of thanking them personally for the splendid performance which they had given. The full cast follows:—

"Hot, dry air is a cause of irritability in both adults and children." The State Department of Public Health issues this statement with the following suggestions:

Keep the temperature of the room at 68 degrees to 70 degrees, —no higher.

Keep the windows open at least several inches both day and night. Change the air completely in the room once in 24 hours. This is best done by opening windows on opposite sides.

If the air is dry, place shallow pans of water on top of radiators.

These directions will also help prevent colds.

ELECTRIC SHOW

ly believe that they were in Arlington, so citified is the atmosphere of the exhibit.

The stage is most invitingly arranged with furniture loaned by our local furniture dealer, and here is where the programs are broadcasted. The booths are about the hall.

Among the Arlington exhibitors are: Gahn & Erickson, who are demonstrating the "Gainaday Washer," and the "Hoover Suction Cleaner," besides many other electric appliances. Call on them if you are interested. The R. W. Shattuck Company have an exhibit, one of the chief ones of interest to the ladies, at least, being the attachment for the sewing machine. The Kelvinator to be placed in the refrigerator to freeze your ice, is an interesting exhibit. The electric shoe cleaner is another, and one is interested in the largest incandescent lamp in the world made for the movie studio work.

We advise all our readers who have not visited Town Hall to do so. It will be worth your while.

The programs each evening were for the most part furnished by some of Arlington's talented musicians, who gave varied and enjoyable concerts. Interspersed between these were each evening, brief talks, either on Arlington, or societies, prominent in the town. On Monday evening, Mr. Charles H. Higgins, as chairman of the Board of Selectmen, gave a word of welcome to the Edison Electric Illuminating Company.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Curtis Waterman, president of the Arlington Woman's Club, gave a brief history of the club, the material for which she culled from the souvenir copy of the Advocate, which was issued in connection with its fiftieth anniversary and loaned at this time by the editors of the "Advocate." On the same evening, Miss June Davidson, told the people over the radio, why they liked to read the Independent, which material had been prepared by Mr. Edward A. Geary, the publisher.

Wednesday evening, Mrs. G. W. Benway, treasurer of the Assembly Club, gave a short talk over the radio, and Mr. Louis D. Gibbs, chairman of the public speaking committee of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, had a brief word.

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Frederick Sawyer gave a brief talk regarding the "Searchlight Club," and Miss June Davidson, more historic spots in Arlington, written by Arlington Independent.

Friday evening (tonight), Arthur K. Reading, president of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association and our District Attorney, will tell something of the Sportsman's Association.

Mr. Charles S. Parker, senior editor of the "Advocate," whose history, "Arlington Past and Present," furnishes material for many an article written about the town, is down on the program for this Friday evening, to speak on, "Arlington, Past and Present." Mr. John A. Colbert will continue the talk on Arlington, in the series, which the Independent has prepared, its publisher closing the evening's program on Saturday, with a brief address, and the singing of, "To Thee O Country," by the chorus of St. Agnes' church.

The Advocate has intended to print each program, but their length and the lateness in receiving them, makes it impossible.

ST. JAMES THEATRE

The outstanding event of the local theatrical season is scheduled to take place at the St. James next week, where Managing Director Giles will present the Boston Stock Co., in "Icebound." The play, a comedy-drama by Owen Davis, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize as the representative American play of last season, and its offering at the St. James will mark its first presentation in New England. It is a story of New England and opens in the sitting room of the Jordan homestead, where the Jordan family has congregated for over a century. The occasion for the present gathering in this historic parlor, is the serious illness of Mrs. Jordan, who is expected hourly to "pass on." Uneasily watching one another, are the widowed and impoverished sister with a child; the married brother with a bankrupt store and a growing flapper daughter; the old maid sister who has never had an hour's fun in all her life; the sister-in-law who regards the family fortune as hers for having married into such a mess; Jane, who was adopted by Mrs. Jordan, and Ben, the family black-sheep, who has been in jail for a petty but nasty crime. It is winter without and winter within for the Jordans are "icebound"—cold, cruel, merciless and unforgiving. With these characters and a few secondary parts, Mr. Davis has moulded an intense story. Mr. Gilbert will have the role portrayed in New York by Robert Ames, and Miss Bushnell will play Jane. A specially selected cast will be seen in support.

HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY TEAM WINS FROM BELMONT

The Arlington High school hockey team added another victory to its growing list on Tuesday afternoon, by defeating the Belmont High school team, at a game played in that town, which resulted in a whitewash for the latter team. The score was four to nothing, but the Arlington boys did not have an easy time accomplishing this. The Belmont boys have the making of a good team, which no doubt they will accomplish before the end of the season. In the opening period the Arlington boys went after the game fast and with some clever pass work, they caged two goals. Belmont fought hard to get these back, but the superior work of Goodwin, Arlington's goal tender, and his defense players, the attacks were broken up each time. Arlington scored two goals in the second period and then were stopped. The last period was the fastest of the game, with both teams playing hard, the Belmont defense, however, being able to withstand just what hit the puck, the stand the onslaughts of the Arlington boys. The fourth goal, which was credited to O'Neill, was in reality a gift. During a hard scrimmage, in which it was difficult to rubber was caged. Later it was thought that the Belmont goal tend in trying to knock the rubber out, had knocked it in. The score:—

MIDDLESEX COUNTY EXTENSION SERVICE FORM A WOMAN'S COUNCIL

A group of the leading women of Middlesex County interested in developing the home-making program of the Middlesex County Extension Service, met in Waltham, January 15th, for the purpose of forming a Women's Council, an executive body that would assist in the organization of the work. The women met at Cedar Hill, at the invitation of Mrs. James J. Storrow, Trustee of the Middlesex County Extension Service.

The following women were present: Mrs. C. G. Barnes, of Medford; Mrs. E. B. Parke, of Burlington; Mrs. Robert Misner, of Townsend; Mrs. Agnes Stone MacDonald, of Newton; Mrs. Madeleine Howe, of Acton; Mrs. Walter Stanton, of Stow; Mrs. N. I. Bowditch, of Framingham; Mrs. F. I. Cooper, of Wayland; Mrs. J. O. Noble, of Holliston; Mrs. Guy W. Ellison, of Reading; Mrs. Charles A. Dane, of Chelmsford; Mrs. Fred W. Kimball, of Littleton; Mrs. Charles Tarbell, of Winchester; Mrs. R. G. Fessenden, of Townsend; and Mrs. J. J. Storrow, of Lincoln.

After considerable discussion it was voted to organize and the following officers and project leaders were elected: Mrs. Storrow, chairman; Mrs. Noble, vice-chairman; Mrs. Stanton, secretary. For the executive committee, the above officers and Mrs. Misner, Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. MacDonald. The County project leaders:—clothing, Mrs. Parke; millinery, Mrs. Cooper; household management, Mrs. MacDonald; nutrition, Mrs. Ellison; Junior work, Mrs. Howe.

The women present believed very strongly that such a council was very necessary in the development of the work now being carried on by the Middlesex County Extension Service, in order that the home-making projects could be properly developed and the largest number possible of the women in Middlesex County, reached by the projects being developed.

It was voted to hold the next meeting February 14th, at the town of Concord, where all of the County project leaders would thoroughly discuss individual projects and such other projects organized as thought best adapted to the County.

Considerable interest was manifested in again starting a canning project, and without a doubt plans for this work will be completed at the Concord meeting. Trustees of the Middlesex County Extension Service, have decided to engage an assistant home demonstration agent, who will be interested mainly in developing the nutrition project. Definite action upon this work will probably take place at this same meeting.

TOO HEAVY UNDERWEAR HARMS Men are Worst Offenders in Wearing Unsuitable Clothing

People who insist upon wearing too heavy underwear are harming their bodies instead of keeping them warm. Men are the worst offenders. In these days of modern heating systems we seldom hear of "all wool" undergarments. Why? Because to keep the body in a good healthy condition, perspiration must not be allowed to stay in the garments and give a feeling of dampness and chill to the body. Wool does not absorb or give up moisture rapidly. When washed it has a tendency to shrink or felt, closing the loose open mesh of the garment so that air cannot pass through, thus preventing any ventilation to the body. Therefore the best manufacturers today are making garments of wool and silk or wool and cotton for people who need extra warmth in cold weather. From 25 to 50 per cent of cotton or silk is being used. A combination texture of cotton, silk and wool is far easier to keep clean than an all wool garment. Consequently we seldom hear of all wool garments being in the markets today.

Cotton is the most satisfactory as its loose open mesh absorbs perspiration easily and allows it to evaporate quickly. Lisle and mercerized lisle are the two leading cotton fabrics used for undergarments today. Mercerized cotton has the feel and appearance of silk. Many people think there is silk in its composition. There is not. The fine hard-twisted cotton fibre has been treated with a solution of caustic soda which, strange as it seems, strengthens the fibre and gives it a silky appearance. Mercerized cotton is the best and most expensive cotton on the market. These fibres wear well and launder well. There are different weights making it possible to buy heavy undergarments for winter wear—Middlesex County Bulletin.

last week to form a local branch of the newly organized national committee of Armenians which aims to bring about a close association of their nationals and the relief organization and to further orphanage and refugee work in the Levant. M. H. T. Kalaidjian, national secretary, spoke concerning similar committees which have been organized in other parts of the country and are already working in close contact with the national committee of which the Rt. Rev. Bishop Tirayre is honorary chairman, Rev. Kapriel Bedrosian, honorary vice-chairman and M. H. Karaghian, chairman.

Plans for a Greater Boston Near East Field Day, to be held Sunday, March 30th, at which more than 150 speakers of national prominence will address gatherings from pulpits of all denominations, were described by Dr. W. A. Bartlett, New England director of Near East Relief. He also outlined the splendid cooperation which the local committee has received from Armenians of the community in the past. A decision was made to form a permanent unit and pledges were given to secure the immediate support of Armenians in the community in the field day movement. The following constitute the committee as elected: M. H. Gulesian, chairman, Rev. Aram T. Bagdikian, secretary, Dr. M. H. Joplin, vice-chairman, and Sarkis J. Gorakian, treasurer.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

—Mrs. George Clark entertained friends with a Mah Jong party on Tuesday afternoon, January 20th.

—Mr. George E. Stokes, of Florence avenue is recovering from his recent illness.

—Miss Edna Byram is entertaining over the week-end, Miss Margaret Cutler, of Arizona, a classmate at the Katherine Gibbs school.

—Mrs. W. H. Bronson, of Linden street, entertained twelve friends with dinner and Mah Jong, on Saturday evening, January 19th.

—Plans are well under way for the annual reunion of the members of St. James' parish. The affair will take place in Robbins Memorial Town-Hall, the latter part of February.

—Those wishing to avail themselves of the opportunity of a class in Parliamentary Law taught by Mrs. Susan M. Plummer, of Lynn, one of the best Parliamentarians in the state, call Arlington 0036, for further information.

—A successful food sale was held by the Sunshine Circle of the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Episcopal church, on Saturday afternoon, at Connor's store. Mrs. Whitley, Mrs. Frame and Mrs. Moore were in charge.

—Prof. O. W. Warmingham, of Boston University, will speak at the young people's service, at 5.45 p. m., Sunday, at the Park Avenue Congregational church and will sum up the series of discussions on the Lord's Prayer. He will also address the evening service, at 7 p. m., which will be in charge of the young people of the church.

—On Thursday, January 17th, Mrs. Julien, of Lowell street, gave a luncheon for the Mt. Ephraim Circle of the Ladies' Aid, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, the proceeds of which will be used for the mortgage fund. After the luncheon, a business meeting was held followed by a social hour. Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Coontz were the guests of the Circle at luncheon.

—The next meeting of the Arlington Heights Study Club, will be held Tuesday, January 29th, at the Hamby Hall. The subject of the meeting will be, "Turkey." Mrs. George Lloyd will read a paper on, "Ancient Turkey." Mrs. George Russell will take for the subject of her paper, "Turkey in the New Age." Mrs. George Clark, will lead the discussion. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Downs and Mrs. Brown.

—An interesting meeting of the Friday Social Club was held last Friday, January 18th, at the home of Mrs. George Clark, with the President, Mrs. Edmund Byram, presiding. Plans were made for a social to be held at Park Avenue Congregational church early in February. The meeting was well attended. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Clinton Schwamb and Mrs. Paul White.

—Miss Florence Poole entertained a group of friends at her home, 59 Dow avenue, on Tuesday evening. In the party were Rupert Marsters, Delores Bradshaw and Dorothy Collier, of Arlington; Edwin Cartington, of Medford; John Usher, of Mattapan; Albert Stanley and Joseph Franklin, of Winthrop; Alice Webster, of Winthrop, and Edward Bowen, of Malden. The evening was passed in playing games and with music until a late hour. A collation was served.

—There were two breaks in the Heights business section, on Wednesday night. Patrolman John T. Kerr, discovered a break in the John T. Connor store at 1376 Mass. avenue, entrance having been gained by breaking one of the rear windows. An examination of the place was made, but nothing was found missing. The other break was in the store of C. W. Wanamaker, at 1308 Mass. avenue. At this place, one of the rear windows had been cut and evidently knocked out with a stone. At this store, $6.50 and a few gloves were taken. No clue was obtained at either store.

—The Women's Missionary Guild of the Park Avenue Congregational church, held their regular meeting on Tuesday afternoon, January 22nd, at the church with a record attendance. Mrs. Walter Jones, president, presided. The Guild voted to pack a barrel for the Tougaloo College at Tougaloo, Mississippi, in February, and members are asked to bring clothing of all kinds. Miss Ona Evans, field secretary of the Home-Missionary Society, gave a fascinating talk on work among the negroes in the south, and also the white people in the rural districts. Mrs. John Henderson with assisting hostesses served tea.

—On Monday night, January 21, the first meeting of the T. T. C., of the Arlington Heights Baptist church, for the New Year was held at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Davis, on Park avenue north. Two new members were voted into the society at this first meeting of the new year. Officers for this year follow: President, Doris Goodwin; Vice-President, Margery Reed; Secretary, Arlene Parker; Treasurer, Clara MacBay; chairman of membership and calling committee, Alice Kenney; Chairman of the Ways and Means committee, Ethel Wright. The meeting closed with a social time.

MRS. CARRIE SPENCER DECEASED

Mrs. Carrie (Curtis) Spencer, widow of Eugene Spencer, formerly of Arlington Heights, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy T. Zahn, 407 Lebahon street, Melrose, on Saturday, January 19th, in her sixty-third year. Mrs. Spencer was a resident at the Heights for over twenty-five years and at the time of her death, made her home with her daughter. She has been ill since Christmas, with bronchial pneumonia, which caused her death.

The funeral services were held on Wednesday, January 23rd, from her late home, at 2.30, with the Rev. Mr. Emig, pastor of the Methodist church in Melrose in charge. Burial was Thursday, in Bradley, Maine, which was her birthplace. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Zahn, two sons, Dennett C. and Steven A. Spencer, of Melrose; Mrs. George E. Lantz, of Arlington, a niece, and three nephews, Mr. A. W. Spencer, of 102 Bartlett avenue; Mr. Edwin D. Curtis, of Arlington; and Mr. C. C. Spencer, of Brookline.

EDWARD ELWELL WHITING SPEAKS BEFORE THE OUTLOOK CLUB

The regular meeting of the Outlook Club was held at a class hour, Tuesday afternoon, January 22nd, at the Old Belfry club house.

The afternoon was in charge of Mrs. J. Henry Duffy, chairman of the Civics department, whose attractive announcement drew the largest assemblage which has attended any regular meeting this year. The Girl Scouts were the club's guests, accepting the annual invitation to attend the Civic meeting, and these future citizens, as well as club members, must have profited well by the clear presentation of his facts by the speaker of the afternoon, who was none other than Mr. Edward Elwell Whiting, of "Whiting's Column" fame. His subject, "Washington at Close Range," was full of interest, regardless of one's political views.

He referred to the work of the insurgent Republicans in the Senate, led by Senator LaFollette, who opposed Senator Cummings' (Republican) election, as chairman of the Interstate Commission, which led to the election of Senator Smith (Democrat), for the position. This, he stated was a warning for the Republican party. The Democrats, meeting in convention soon, were to nominate their strongest candidate for President; the insurgents will not ratify the Republican platform; therefore, the election for President Coolidge could not be looked upon as a foregone conclusion. The speaker said that "This radical element, although perhaps trying to the party, is really a good thing, for the country at large." It represents unrest of the minority, who desire to be heard, it is the safety valve, averting revolution in our country, because represented by men like LaFollette and Magnus Johnson, both able men.

He discussed the Mellon Tax Bill approved by President Coolidge; the Garner Bill, introduced by the Democrats, and stated that the President would be embarrassed by the latter, as his position had been clearly stated for the former.

Mr. Whiting painted President Coolidge, as we in Massachusetts have always known him, to be clear thinking, unemotional and safe.

The afternoon's program was made more enjoyable by quartet numbers rendered by members, of the club: Mrs. John L. Judd and Mrs. Damon Stevens, sopranos; Mrs. Windsor M. Tyler and Mrs. Fay Miller, altos, under the able direction of Mrs. Henry D. Love. Mrs. Alfred Pierce was at the piano.

Mrs. Robert H. Holt, chairman of the Hospitality committee, assisted by the Girl Scouts in uniform, served delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting.

ARLINGTON BASKETBALL TEAM DEFEATED BY LEXINGTON

The Lexington High school boys' basketball five opened its season, last Friday evening, losing a closely fought game to its most bitter rival, the Arlington High school quintet, 29 to 19, in the Lexington Town Hall, before a good-sized audience. Keefe, right forward for the winners, was the leading scorer, making nine points, and J. Lane, left forward, scored eight points for Arlington. Collins showed up best for Lexington, chalking up seven points. Moloy, left forward and Ryan, left guard, each scored five points. The two teams were tied, 7 to 7 at the end of the first period, but Arlington forged ahead in the second quarter, and was ahead 13 to 9, at the end of the half, maintaining the lead through the rest of the encounter. Lexington, with less practice, than its opponent, made a fine showing, and bears watching in future encounters. The summary:—

ARLINGTON HIGH v. LEXINGTON HIGH
J. Kane 11, Keefe 9, Ryan 5, Collins 8, Moloy 7, Ryan 2. Goals from fouls, made by J. Lane 4, Keefe, Marsters, Crosby, Collins, Moloy, Gaffney 2, Ryan, Referee, Greenwood, Timekeeper, Powell, Scorekeeper, Kelley. Time, four 8m periods.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—Mr. and Mrs. Curtis A. Waterman are spending the week-end in New York City.

—The Friends of the Drama met Thursday afternoon, at the Parish house. After the business meeting, the members were addressed by Marie Ware Loughton, director of the Theatre Guild, of Boston, who is also founder and principal of the School of English Speech and Expression. Her wide experience as dramatic coach, made her talk especially timely to Friends of the Drama.

—St. Agnes' Court, C. D. of A., will hold their regular meeting in G. A. R. Hall, on Monday evening, after the services, at St. Agnes' church.

—Mrs. Arthur J. Souster, of 87 Brantwood road, is in Detroit, Michigan, visiting her brother, Dr. H. A. Currie. Mrs. Souster expects to return to Arlington in about three weeks.

—Ice men are now beginning to get worried over the supply for the coming season. The open winter has had its set backs in this respect. We may have a hard time getting our ice supply next summer.

—The next meeting of Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus, will be held in the council rooms next Monday evening. After the meeting there will be an excellent entertainment program by professional talent.

—Friday evening a well attended whist party was held in the rooms of the Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus. The affair was in charge of the lecturer, M. J. Canniff. Many souvenirs were awarded to the holders of the best scores.

—Many Christian leaders who uphold old time faith as opposed to the views of modernists, will be heard at the annual Founder's Week Conference of The Moody Bible Institute, of Chicago, to be held February 4th to 8th, inclusive.

—A retreat for women will open in St. Agnes' church, on next Sunday evening with Rev. Fr. Stanton in charge. The services will be held in the church every evening during the week and will be exclusively for women with a special sermon each evening.

—Warner Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Clifford, Jr., of 80 Bartlett avenue, entertained sixteen friends in celebration of his eighteenth birthday, Saturday afternoon, January 19th. The decorations were in red and white and the Jack Horner pie that occupied the center of the table, held a gift for each guest.

—The dinner at the Middlesex Sportsman's Association on Saturday evening, was attended by a large number. Tomorrow (Saturday) evening there will be a chicken dinner served at cost. These dinners are enjoyed by a number of the members. Later in the evening many members come down for the lunches which are served.

—Arlington Lodge of Elks postponed its regular meeting this week, in order that the members might attend the visitation of D. D. G. E. R. Frederic T. Strachan and suite to Winthrop Lodge. There is a strong tie between these two lodges. Arlington was well represented in the suite by the party accompanying the same.

—The Arlington Men's Club meet Monday evening, January 28th, in the vestry of the Orthodox Congregational church, with supper served at 6.45. The speaker of the evening will be, Dean Homer C. Alberts, of the Boston University Law school, who will speak on, "Less law—more enforcement." There will be community singing.

—At the last meeting of the Arlington Board of Trade, Ralph C. Henricus, athletic director in the schools, announced that he would like to form a class of men for gymnasium work and would give one night a week to this work. As yet he has received no replies to his offer and he is wondering whether or not the men are bashful in coming forward.

—At the installation of Belmont-Waverley Post, the American Legion, on Monday evening, of last week, Commander G. H. Averill, of Francis Gould Post 36, G. A. R., upon being called upon for a few remarks responded by saying he would show what "an old man of 75 could do on the piano," and proceeded to entertain the audience with a stirring march with the ability of a true artist.

—Many citizens who have no sons of Boy Scout age have asked if it were possible for them to attend the Fathers' and Sons' Night to be held on February 12th, and take scouts who have no fathers or whose fathers are unable to go. It certainly is. If you are one of those men get in touch with Scout Executive Bacon, at Scout headquarters, Old Town Hall (telephone Arlington 0520), and he will fix you up. Only apply early before all the boys are taken.

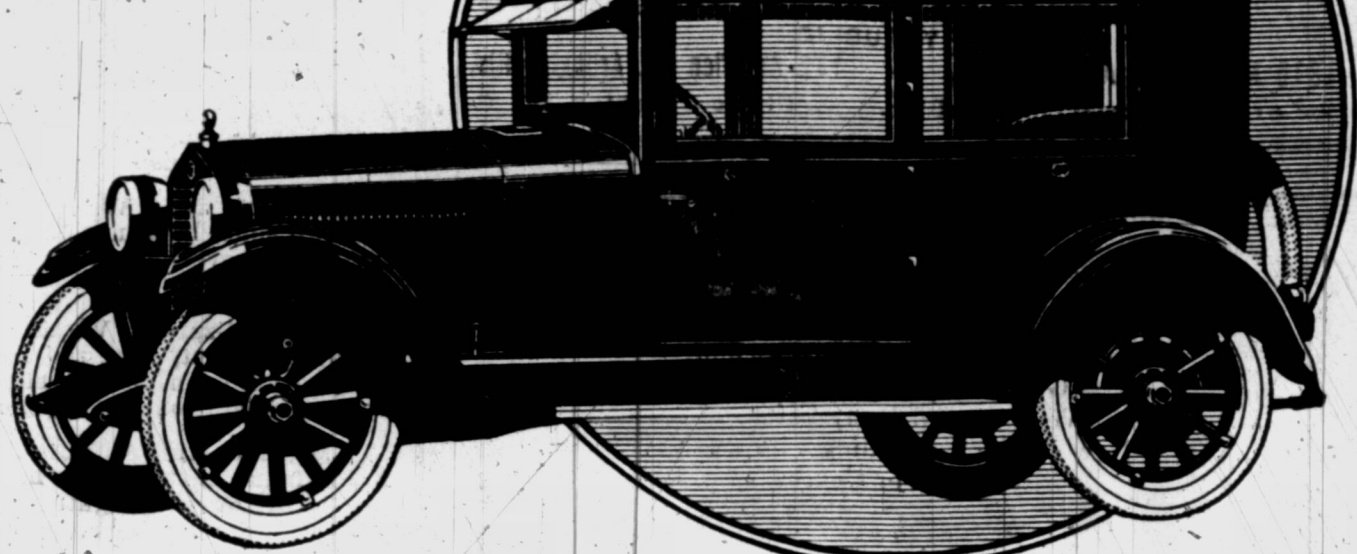

—A meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's parish, will be held in the Parish House, next Monday, January 28th, at 2.30. Opening of the mite boxes and an address by Miss Kate L. Opharlin, on work among the Indians, especially, at Fort Hall school in Idaho, and at St. Stephen's Mission, at Fort Yukon, Alaska, for which the St. John's branches of the Auxiliary are working this winter. A social hour will follow. All women are very cordially invited.

—Mrs. Louis L. Lougee, of 25 Windemere avenue, had a narrow escape, together with the other occupants of her Franklin car, when it came in contact with a one-man Broadway electric car, at the corner of Mass. avenue and Pleasant street, Friday afternoon, of last week. As it was, the bumper was broken and the wind shield also. Miss Edith Ginn, the sister of Mrs. James H. Jones, of 56 Norfolk road, who was riding on the front seat with Mrs. Lougee, was cut over the eye and on the lip and was treated by Dr. Harold Webb. Mrs. Lougee has been driving a car for several years.

The NEW ESSEX A SIX

Built by Hudson Under Hudson Patents

The smoothness and long life for which Hudson is famous is now shared by Essex. It is an important advantage to bear in mind.

So also is the fact that the Essex "Six" possesses other notable Hudson qualities. It has the same type clutch, the same axles, the same provisions for long life and easy care of all working parts. Essex reliability is retained. Essex economy of fuel, oil and tires is greatly enhanced.

We ask this test—take a ride.

You will enjoy it—that's certain. See how handling is simplified. Starts at the touch of your toe. Steers easily as a bicycle. And how easy gears shift. Easy to park too. Its low center of gravity makes safe and comfortable driving on all roads at all speeds.

Simple to keep in first class condition. Requires little attention. Lubrication for the most part is done with an oil can.

You, too, will say: "the New Essex provides ideal transportation."

Leveroni and Laurence Gay, were at play in a field at Lowell street place and Lowell street and the Richardson boy is said to have been firing at targets. Suddenly Paul cried out from pain in his eye. He was taken home and then ordered to the Mass. General Hospital, where an effort is being made to save the eye.

—The Philathea Society of young women, held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, January 21st, at the First Baptist church. A chicken pie supper was served in charge of the hostesses of the evening, Mrs. Warren A. Peirce and Mrs. C. H. Rider. At eight o'clock, the business meeting was held, followed by a missionary program. The speaker of the evening was Mrs. F. W. Goddard, of China, and she gave an extremely interesting address on the work being done in China and also of the customs of the people. She brought with her and displayed to her audience, many articles of Chinese clothing and other things brought by her from the Orient. Rev. H. S. Potter rendered a flute selection.

—Mr. H. H. Whitney, leader of the Appalachian Club, left Saturday, January 19th, with a party of sixty-five members for Quebec, where they will enjoy the winter sports there. Chateau Frontenac will be their —Mrs. E. E. Munro, of 75 Scituate street, has been confined to her home with a severe cold.

—Mrs. P. A. Heizer is confined to her home on Wyman street and although improving in health, is still under the doctor's care and unable to be out of doors.

—Monday afternoon, on Hill's Pond the Menotomy Tigers met defeat at the hands of a scrub team. The game was short and the finish found the scrub team in the lead with a score of 12 to 0.

—Two automobiles, one reported as operated by D. H. Rosmussen, of 95 Everett street, and the other operated by F. R. Porter, of Cambridge, were in collision at Mass. avenue and Winter street, Monday, which resulted in some damage being done both cars. The occupants escaped with but a shaking up.

—Rumor has it that the Boston Elevated Railway Company is negotiating for the Cambridge Poor Farm property as a site for the new car barns. The Arlington site, which aroused so much discussion a short time ago is still owned by the company and what they intend to do with it is known only to them at present. The Cambridge site would solve the problem to perfection and be easier of access when the Clarendon Hill and North Cambridge car barns are consolidated. At present, the North Cambridge car barns are being torn down, in order that a cross over track can be put in to speed up traffic and do away with the long delays at this point, during the rush hours.

Friday evening, January 25th, M. Y. O. B. will hold its first dancing party of the year for its members and friends. Mrs. Ernest Hesselstine and Mrs. E. B. Blaisdell will act as matrons at this party, following out the well known policy of M. Y. O. B. to have some mother, sister or friend of the members, act as matron, at all parties.

To some, it may seem a little old fashioned, but the purpose of M. Y. O. B. among other things, is to promote clean social activities. Any of the young people of Arlington, who have attended a M. Y. O. B. dancing party, are always pleased to be invited again, and more, the chairman of the entertainment committee, F. T. Bennett, wishes to convey through the "Arlington Advocate," to the mothers and fathers of Arlington, a cordial invitation to attend any dance given by them and see for themselves why they are doing for amusements for the young people. The parties will be held on the fourth Friday of every month and any parent, who is interested enough to call Mr. Bennett, at 27 Russell street, will be mailed a ticket for one or all of the dances if they care to attend. Will some of the readers who are interested, come and be our guest any Friday evening?

Mr. Samuel Cushing will be the speaker at the regular monthly meeting on February 8th; the subject will be announced later. Any young men of Arlington are welcome at the talks, come down and meet the boys.

SHAMROCK ICE HOCKEY TEAM PLAYS TIE GAME WITH THE NEPONSET WANDERERS

The newly organized Shamrock ice hockey team, made up of young men of High school age, but who are not attending school, played its first game of the season on Saturday afternoon, on Hill's Pond. The opposing team was the Neponset Wanderers, and the game ended in a tie of four to four, although two extra five-minute periods were played before it was decided to call the game off and let the score stand as tied. Another game will be played later in the season to break this tie. The game was fast and well played all the way through. Ice conditions were bad. Some parts of the pond were open and the water came in on the ice surface, this hampering the play to a great extent. The Arlington boys gave a good account of themselves and Coach Jud Lynch feels certain that he has some good material available. This team will play the High school team at the close of the season. The defense work of both teams was excellent and the players deserve credit, for their showing.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Anne Sheehan, also known as Annette Sheehan, late of Arlington, in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for Probate, by Marguerite E. Sheehan, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1924, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Arlington Advocate, a newspaper published in Arlington, the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE F. LAWTON, Esquire, First Judge of said Court, this tenth day of January, in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four.

A NEW PLAN FOR WORLD PEACE TO BE SECURED WITHOUT WAR, DEVISED BY AN
ARLINGTON PHYSICIAN

Among the plans submitted in the Bok Peace Award contest was one from a well-known citizen of Massachusetts, Dr. Charles A. Dennett, of Arlington, which provided for a novel method of abolishing war.

Dr. Dennett is a graduate of Bowdoin, a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the American Medical Association, the Boston Medical Library and the Cambridge Medical Society, and is a trustee and member of the staff of the Symmes Hospital of Arlington, and has also made a study of the international war question for many years.

He outlines his plan as one designed to do away with armament and large standing armies, and to safeguard every good doctrine, including the Monroe Doctrine.

Following is his plan:

DR. DENNETT'S PEACE PLAN

War cannot be prevented by war. The world has waged war for centuries, and is no nearer a permanent peace. War can be prevented if the punishment to the nation which wages war is greater than the gain acquired by victory. This is possible and practical by the plan outlined below.

1—There must be a congress of all civilized nations of the world having stable representative government.

2—This congress should meet at The Hague, or some place equally satisfactory to all nations represented.

3—This congress shall be composed only of men of the highest integrity and intelligence—like our Supreme Court.

4—They shall adopt the following compact, and all nations shall be compelled to adhere to it or be penalized. For it is useless to make laws without some method of enforcement.

Warring Nation an Outcast

5—A country which wages war shall be declared an outlaw, a criminal, and so far as is possible, shall be isolated and made prisoner in its own land—considered an outlaw among the nations of the world, cut off from all association or communication with any self-respecting peoples, or nations.

6—The following laws shall be enforced immediately upon the declaration, or outbreak of war or any overt act leading to war.

7—All treaties with the other nations of the world shall become null and void the moment a country declares or engages in war.

8—Ambassadors, ministers and consuls shall return from the offending nation to their own country.

9—The outlaw nation shall be allowed no representatives in any country, and can speak to the world only through the Congress of Nations.

10—No communication except through the Congress shall be allowed with the criminal nation. None of her goods shall be purchased. She shall not be allowed to purchase commodities of any description in the markets of the world.

11—No people, no commodities, nothing shall be allowed to cross her borders. The warring nation shall be made prisoner in her own land.

12—No citizens of the warring nation who may be in foreign lands shall be allowed to return to their country, send money or letters—in short, there shall be no intercourse with the outside world by the warring country.

13—The warring nation shall be isolated in every way until she has ceased to war until reparation as decided by the Congress of Nations shall be complete; until the country warred upon shall be reimbursed in every way. Isolation may be continued for several years after complete satisfaction has been given the nation warred upon and until the Congress of Nations is content. The punishment must be very severe, so that any nation will hesitate to engage in war, because it will lose so much economically; and war is generally waged for loot or gain of territory.

14—All persons who have been or are in any way engaged in instigating war shall be banished from civilization for life.

Enforcing Penalties
15—There must be some way of enforcing these laws other than by force of arms, or by treaties which have been sometimes regarded as "scraps of paper."

16—There shall be established a world bank or banks.

17—There shall be deposited in this bank, or these banks, securities in proportion to the wealth of the country depositing. It may be best to keep all the gold of a nation in these banks. The bank or banks shall, of course, be properly guarded, and their location decided by the Congress of Nations.

18—The nation which wages war shall have enough of her gold reserve or other securities taken from her to pay for the damage she has wrought. Or, if her deposit is insufficient to make reparation complete, the congress shall decide what other methods may be applied.

19—Any nation which violates a law as enacted by the congress and agreed to by her people, whether or not she wages war, shall also be penalized. Without some such fine or penalty for a nation, as in the case of an individual, nothing can be accomplished.

20—These penalties shall continue in force for the criminal nation until the congress decides that she has met every demand upon her, and that the nation is worthy to be once more restored to good standing.

21—There shall be no treaties made between nations to the detriment of any other nation, large or small.

No Secret Treaties

22—There shall be no secret diplomatic relations or diplomatic bargaining between nations. All treaties shall be passed upon by the congress and no nation shall be allowed to

28—Congress of Nations shall provide for an Intelligence, Department, composed of representatives of the different nations, whose duties shall be to watch the militaristic activities of all countries so that no munitions of war can be secretly manufactured; violation shall be reported to the congress, spread broadcast among the peoples of the world and immediate action taken to destroy such munitions and to prevent the continuance of their manufacture.

COSTUME PARTY AT MIDDLESEX

SPORTSMAN'S ASSOCIATION

CLUB HOUSE

Pretty young ladies, handsome costumes and a large attendance marked the costume party given in the club house of the Middlesex Sportsman's Association, on Thursday evening of last week. It was the largest attended party ever held in the club house and from the time the affair started until the hour of midnight, there was a merry time. The affair was open to all and was handled for the club by the members of the Pierrot Club, an organization made up of young ladies employed in the Moxie Company office. These young ladies and their friends made up the party for the most part and they filled the hall. Of course some of the costumes were "screams." There were prizes for three different classes of costumes, the best home made costume, the most original and the freakiest. In the latter class there were a number, but in the most original class, there were the great majority.

The hall was decorated in keeping with the party, white, blue and yellow streamers being strung from corner to corner and across the hall, which changed the general appearance of the place entirely. Snappy music was furnished for the dancing. Frank Archer, Jr., was chairman of the committee, assisted by Miss Adella Thomas, Miss Laura Avery and Miss Jane Lintamar.

At the time of the grand march for the awarding of the prizes, the judges, who were District Attorney Arthur K. Reading, who was himself disguised as a Mandarin; Newman Drake and Laurence J. McCormack, had a difficult task to choose the winners, especially in the home made and most original classes and they finally let the audience choose the winners. For the best home made costumes the prizes went to Miss Catherine M. Barry, of Malden, and Miss Christine E. Robinson, of Dorchester. In the most original class, the awards went to Mrs. Charles A. Robinson, mother of the winner of the first prize, in the home made class; and Frank T. Robinson, of South Boston, her nephew. The freakiest costume prizes went to Jacob Hagopian, of Malden, and Miss Marie Davis, of Smith College. All the prizes were gold pieces and were donated by Freeman N. Young.

During the intermission, all repaired to the grocery store, where a buffet lunch was served and then the dancing was resumed until a late hour. It was one of the merriest parties held in the hall in some time, for the young ladies seemed bent on seeing that everyone had a good time.

HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY TEAM
GETS A SET BACK

The High school ice hockey team got its first set-back of the season on last Saturday afternoon in a game played at Danvers, with the St. John's Prep school of that town. The St. John boys won out by a score of three to two. The ice was in very poor condition and neither team could play its best. That Arlington has the best team of the two was apparent, but the boys were handicapped with the team work on account of bad ice conditions. The game was a tie up to almost the very end, when Morris, of the Danvers outfit, caged the winning goal for his team. The Danvers boys had to play on the defense the greater part of the game, so frequently were the onslaughts on their goal. Their goal tend, McNamara, gave good account of himself. Arlington played ten men in an effort to break up the Danvers play. The game was a lively one when the ice conditions were taken into consideration. The summary:

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ORTHODOX CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The supper and annual meeting of the Orthodox Congregational church, was held Monday evening in the vestry. The supper, which was served at 7.45, was a bountiful one as well as delicious, and served by an efficient committee under the supervision of the deacons' wives and deaconesses. The chairman, however, was Mr. B. Frank Moors, who had the following ladies assisting:—Mrs. William Sinclair, Mrs. Frank Wunderlich, Mrs. George B. C. Rugg, Mrs. Wilson D. Clark, Jr., Mrs. Frank Stearns, Mrs. Ernest Snow, Mrs. Samuel A. Fowle, Mrs. Charles F. Winner, Miss Isabel Gratto, Mrs. Edward N. Lacey and Mrs. Frank Savage. A large corps of young men and women acted as waiters and waitresses.

After a brief social, following the supper, the meeting was called to order by the moderator, Mr. Henry A. Kidder, followed by prayer by the pastor, Rev. Don Ivan Patch. Then came the reading of the reports of the officers and committees.

The treasurer's report showed receipts, not including the kitchen fund, of $14,016.96. On the kitchen fund, $6,316.01, was received and $6,126.58 was expended, leaving a balance which was turned over to the church, of $189.43. The benevolences showed a grand total from the pledges and contributions of societies of $3,313.14. The total amount appearing upon the treasurer's book for the year, was $19,109.60, and the cash balance on hand was $584.84. The report of the prudential committee, showed 1923 to be one of the most active years in the way of repairs in the history of the church. The roof has been re-shingled, the interior of the church, redecorated throughout; in addition to this the new kitchen and toilet accommodations have been built, under the supervision of a special committee. A new sexton has been employed, at an increase in salary. The committee recommended the addition to the budget of $500, as the start of an emergency fund for the future repairs on the church. The committee sees the possibility of a new heating plant and the painting of the church within a few years.

A letter from Rev. S. C. Bushnell, pastor emeritus, was read, expressing his regret at being unable to be present. The pastor read the report of the church committee, dealing mainly with recommendations of persons to membership. Other reports followed.

Rev. Frank Shults, the director of Religious Education, presented reports for the superintendent of the Sunday school and the committee on Religious Education. A new set of graded lessons has been put into use in the school and a new hour of opening, 9.30 a. m., adopted. The class in Teacher Training held on Monday nights during the year has been well attended and has contributed largely to the success of the work with the children in the school. Two recommendations were made by Mr. Shults, that the hour of the beginning of church service be changed to eleven o'clock, to allow fifteen minutes more time to the school for its work, and that the Religious Education committee, have four members added to it.

The report of the Bradshaw Missionary Association showed that $1,634.88 has been expended in the interests of the church and of missions. The Friendly Folk reported a very active and successful year. Through the efforts of these two societies in cooperation with other societies of the church a new curtain and fine set of double scenery has been secured for the church.

The three Christian Endeavor Societies reported good years. Two special reports were presented, one by Mrs. Jennie Savage for the Primary department, of the Sunday school. The other by the Scoutmaster of Troop 8, Mr. Stephen Richardson. The success of this work in the past year, was borne witness to by the shields on the wall of the vestry, the troop having made the best record in the town for scout work. Mr. Myron Taylor in a report for the committee on revision of roll call, outlined a careful policy for dealing with an important but delicate situation. Edward N. Lacey reported for the committee on the Revision of the By-laws, a mimeographed copy of a fully revised set of By-laws drawn up by the committee in cooperation with the pastor. The following officers, and committees were then elected by ballot:—

Deacons, 3 years, Alfred C. Cobb, William E. Hardy; Deaconesses, 2 years, Mrs. Harriet Cowdrey, Mrs. Edward E. Bacon; Clerk, 1 year, Myron W. Dole; Treasurer, 1 year, Frederick B. Thompson; Assistant Treasurer, 1 year, Miss Ednah A. Warren; Collector, 1 year, Stanley E. Cook; Auditor, 1 year, Myron Taylor; Moderator, 1 year, Henry A. Kidder; Superintendent of Sunday School, 1 year, Rev. Frank A. Shults; Church committee, 3 years, Ernest M. Steele; Prudential committee, 3 years, Eben F. Devlin; Music committee, 1 year, Frank H. Walker, Willard G. Rolfe, Loren W. Marsh; Missionary committee, 1 year, Alfred C. Cobb, Miss Harriet Pennell, Mrs. Edward N. Lacey; Religious Education committee, 1 year, Rev. Frank A. Shults, Mrs. Wilson D. Clark, Jr., Miss Josephine W. Whitaker; Hospitality committee, 1 year, Solon M. Bartlett, William Sinclair, Mortimer H. Wells, Willard G. Rolfe, Charles W. Peirson; Mrs. Llewellyn M. Evans, Mrs. Philip H. Johnson.

The report of the clerk showed the membership of the church to be 408, 146 men and 262 women. Of this number, 329 are residents of Arlington, and 79 non-residents. Forty-one persons have been added during the year. Four members have died and seventeen have taken their letters to other churches, making a net gain of twenty members. Sixteen adults and ten infants have been baptized during the year. The number added to the membership of the church is twice as large as any year for the past twenty-five years, probably the largest in the history of the church.

Article three, dealing with the proposed revision of the constitution is to be taken up at an adjourned meeting, to be held at 7.45, on Friday, February 1st. The meeting adjourned at 10.15.

JUNIOR HIGH WEST NOTES

The hockey team from the Junior west has begun a winning career under the able leadership of Mr. William D. Power, their coach. Last Friday, they defeated the Southern Junior High, of Somerville, by a score of 4 to 0. This Tuesday, they defeated Belmont Junior High to the tune of 9 to 0.

Basketball is under way now, with about twenty candidates out for the team. A schedule is being arranged and will appear later, averaging one game a week. In connection with this must be mentioned the Junior High west Boy Scout Troop No. 5, which is being coached at the same time, came through with a victory at the series of games, Monday night by a score of 14 to 12.

A declamation contest is being arranged for under the leadership of Mr. Power for prizes of five dollars and two dollars and a half. The contest is being prepared for by having in the assembly on three different Wednesdays the contestants chosen from the rooms of the respective grades try out for the final choice of one to represent the class in the final contest on April 21st, in the evening in connection with a Parent-Teachers' Night. The preliminary contests come on Wednesdays, February 27th, March 12th, and March 26th.

The thrift banner is being used as a method of encouraging the habit of saving. Each room reports in the morning the number that saved in the room the preceding day; the room with the largest number receives the banner for the day. Rooms 3 and 2 have held it so far.

LEGION NOTES

The adjutant is very busy these days compiling a list of all service men in Arlington, also a list of all slackers and men claiming exemption without just cause. This is to protect the bona fide service man and will be of great aid in the future in dealing in all matters pertaining to national, state, town, or city, in claims, compensation, medals etc., in fact, anything pertaining to the veteran of the World War.

A wonderful meeting was held in Post headquarters, January 22, 1924, and it was the consensus of opinion that it was a sure snappy time, and well worth the large attendance that it called out.

Our well-known Commander, Frank M. Harwood, broadcasted a short speech from Station WTAT, the Edison Light Broadcasting Station, now in operation at the Electrical Exposition in the Town Hall, last Monday evening, and replies from all over the country are coming in.

John Gelbert, our jovial past commander, addressed a large gathering in Quincy, last Monday evening, at the installation of officers at the American Legion Post.

Post 39, American Legion, intends to help as much as they are able, any disabled service man in Arlington, providing his case will stand investigation. We have a few of these on hand now. Anyone wishing to help us can find out about these cases by getting in touch with Commander Frank M. Harwood.

Some wonderful "times" are in view for Legionnaires this coming year, so all the boys better keep their heads up and watch our smoke.

JUNIOR HIGH WEST NOTES

The Honor Roll was announced in the assembly, Wednesday, and was received with much interest and applause. The announcement was made that anyone who dropped a course, and obtained all A's and B's, could receive only honorable mention in order that those who continued with their course as originally planned should receive due credit for their accomplishments. The list is as follows:—

TWO KINDS OF MORTGAGES, WHICH KIND DO YOU PREFER?

One of the common kind these days is the chattel-mortgage on the family automobile.

The desire for a car is so strong that many people buy them on the installment plan, giving a chattel-mortgage on it as security for the monthly payments.

In many cases it is such a long hard drag to make the payments and keep up the operating expense too, that many cars thus purchased are taken back by the dealer.

Many of those who do manage to pay out, find themselves so pinched for money immediately, that they put another plaster on the car at once for all it will stand. Very often the car wears out and is junked before the mortgage is wiped out, but it must be paid just the same.

The other kind of mortgage, that is very common, is that on homes, but, oh how different. A home is everywhere considered as gilt edge security for loans and carries a low rate of interest.

The value of a home, if well located, increases, while a car constantly decreases. The home also permits using the rent to pay interest and reduce the mortgage. The interest and car mortgage must be paid from other sources.

Many a home has helped their owners pay for a car without borrowing, but we have never heard of a car helping save enough to pay for a home.

After studying these pictures, of the two most common kind of mortgages, we leave you to say which you prefer to have against you.

We are so sure of your decision, however, that we cordially invite you to call and let us help you to build your home first so you may be better able to really enjoy a car.

HOUSEHOLD PROBLEMS' COLUMN

The following remarkable document was found in a Bible of an inmate of the Insane Asylum, at Dunning, Illinois. We think it was first published by the Everett Press about twenty-five years ago. We trust our readers will enjoy it, if it is new to them and perhaps would like to preserve it:—

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, that I Charles Lounsbury, being of sound mind and disposing memory, do hereby make and publish this, my last will and testament, in order, as a last will and testament, and all that I own may be to distribute my interest in the world among succeeding men. That part of my interest which is known in law and recognized in the sheep-bound volumes as my property, being inconsiderable and of no account, I make no disposal of in this my will.

My right to live, being but a life estate, is not at my disposal; but these things excepted, all else in the world I now proceed to devise and bequeath:

ITEM: I give to good fathers and mothers, in trust for their children, all good little words of praise, and encouragement, and all quiet but names and endearments, and I charge said parents to use them justly and generously, as the needs of their children may require.

ITEM: I leave to children, inclusively, but only for the term of their childhood, all and every, the flowers of the fields, and the blossoms of the woods, with the right to play among them freely according to the customs of children, warning them at the same time against thistles and thorns. And I devise to children the banks of the brooks, and the golden sands beneath the water thereof, and the odors of the willows that dip therein, and the white clouds that float high over the giant trees. And I leave the children the long, long days to be merry in, in a thousand ways, and the night and the moon and the train of the milky to wonder at, but subject nevertheless, to the rights hereinafter given to lovers.

ITEM: I devise to boys jointly all the useful idle fields and the commons where ball may be played; all pleasant waters where one may swim, all snow-clad hills where one may coast, and all streams and water courses, and the right to fish on the grim winter comes, one may skate; to have and to hold the same for the period of their boyhood. And all meadows with the clover blossoms and buttercups thereof, the weeds and their appurtenances, the squirrels and birds, the echoes and strange noises, and all distant places which may be visited, together with adventures, there found. And I give to boys, and to his over, the right to the freestone at night, with all pictures that may be seen in the burning wood, to enjoy with out let or hindrance and without any incumbrances of care.

ITEM: To lovers I devise their imaginary world with whatever they may need, as the stars of the sky, the red roses by the wall, the bloom of the hawthorne, the sweet strains of music, and ought else they may desire to figure to each other the lastingness and beauty of their love.

ITEM: To young men jointly, I devise and bequeath all boisterous, inspiring sports of rivalry, and I give to them the disdain of weakness and undaunted confidence in their own strength, though they are rude. I give to them the power to make their own ships, and of possessing companions, and to them exclusively I give all merry songs and brave choruses, to sing with lusty voices.

ITEM: And to those who are no longer children or youths, or lovers, I leave memory, and I bequeath to them the volume of the poems of Burns and Shakespeare, and of other poets, if there be others, to read that they may live over the old days again, freely and fully, without tithes or diminition.

ITEM: To our loved ones, with snowy crowns I bequeath the happiness of old age, the love and gratitude of their children until they fall asleep.

For the Children

A turtle, a lamb, a dove and a skunk decided to go to the theatre together one evening. At the box office all except the skunk were successful in securing tickets, for the turtle had a green back, the lamb fore quarters, the dove a bill, but the skunk had only a scent and that was a bad one. Therefore no ticket could be purchased by him. A sardine, happening along and taking in the situation, exclaimed, "See here, I'm in a box, come on in with me."

Kate Douglas Wiggin, the author, says her choicest possession, is a letter which she received once from the superintendent of a home for the feeble-minded. He spoke in glowing terms of the pleasure with which the inmates had read her little book, "Marm Liza," and ended his saying: "I fact, I think that I may safely say, that you are the favorite author of the feeble-minded."

We are going to give you some limericks, or nonsense rhymes, next week. Have you some that you wish to send us to be published? If so, send them to the "Minute-Man," 446 Mass. avenue, Arlington.

Question, No. 1. How can I keep mice from eating my flowers. Have geraniums in boxes and the mice dig down and eat the roots, for there is no food left about for them to eat. Thanking you. "Worry."

Answer, No. 1.—"Worry."—Our advice would be to get a cat. That is the best solution of your trouble.

ARLINGTON LOCALS

—The Clare Class of the First Baptist church will hold their guest night, on Monday evening, February 4th, in the chapel of the church. The members will present a short sketch entitled, "How I Earned a Dollar."

—The Middlesex Sportsman's Association will hold a ladies' night, at the club house, next month, when the program is to be furnished by members of the club. This is something new, for which the men are now rehearsing.

—Gertrude, daughter of Patrolman and Mrs. George E. Moore, was struck by an automobile on Grafton street, on Monday. The child was picked up under the machine. The case is being investigated, as there are two stories as to how the accident happened. The child escaped with bruises and minor cuts.

—Monday evening a fire was discovered on the roof of the house of William D. Wanzel, at the corner of Jason street and Mass. avenue, on the side occupied by Charles H. Higgins and family. The timely discovery of the fire and the prompt arrival of the firemen saved a big loss, for with the high wind that was blowing, the fire would have spread rapidly. The fire started on the roof and had eaten through to the attic when the firemen arrived. A chemical line extinguished the blaze with but little damage. It is thought that a spark from the chimney was responsible. On the same evening, the firemen had an hour's fight with a fire in a chimney of a house on Rhinecliff street. The sparks from the burning chimney flew into the wooded section nearby, and it looked for a time, as if a big fire would result. Tuesday morning the men from the Highland station were called out for a grass fire, off West street.
